Priority Registration

Important dates

Nov. 1 – Priority registration for currently enrolled graduate students
Nov. 24 – Priority registration for new graduate students

Registration Guidance

Priority registration for the upcoming spring semester is available for currently enrolled graduate students through Buff Advisor. We commonly field questions from students about what courses to take and how to sequence them. For your convenience, on the Enrolling in Classes page of our Educational Leadership website, we have three documents to assist you in your planning and course selections.

For long-term planning, you should find these two documents to be helpful:

Course Sequencing Guide
Course Rotation Table

To know what is available in the spring semester and how the short courses are sequenced, this document should be helpful:
