Who We Are

This Notice describes the privacy practices of West Texas A & M University (WTAMU) and services furnished by its Health Care Providers (Student Medical Services, Nursing Wellness Clinic, Speech and Hearing Clinic, and Student Counseling Services.) Federal law requires us to provide this Notice to you.

Who Will Follow This Notice?

This Notice describes our Health Care Providers and those of:

- Health care professionals who are members of our workforce authorized to access and/or enter information into your medical record or billing record;
- All departments and units of our clinic locations;
- All employees, volunteers and other clinic location personnel considered a part of our workforce; and,
- Any health care entities and medical offices owned by or affiliated with our Health Care Providers.

Our Pledge Regarding Medical and Billing Information

We understand that information about you and your health is personal. We are committed to protecting medical and billing information about you. We create a record of the care and services you receive from our Health Care Providers. Typically, this record contains your symptoms, examination and test results, diagnosis, treatment, a plan for future care or treatment, and charges or bills for services related to your care. These records are used to provide you with quality care and to comply with certain legal requirements.

This Notice applies to all of the records of your care generated by our Health Care Providers. You may have a different Notice presented to you, if your care is provided in an affiliated facility.

This Notice will tell you about the ways in which we may use and disclose medical and billing information about you. We also describe your rights and certain obligations we have regarding the use and disclosure of your medical information.

We are required by law to:

- Make sure that medical and billing information that identifies you is kept private;
- Give you this Notice of our legal duties and privacy clinic locations with respect to medical and billing information about you; and
- Follow the terms of the Notice that is currently in effect.

How We May Use and Disclose Medical and Billing Information About You

The following categories describe different ways we use and disclose medical and billing information. For each category of uses or disclosures we will explain what we mean and try to give some examples. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the categories.

Electronic Disclosure

Your protected health information is subject to electronic disclosure. If we disclose your protected health information electronically for any reason other than for treatment, payment, health care operations, or as otherwise authorized or required by law, we cannot do so without your authorization for each disclosure.

At your request, we are authorized to send protected health information to you via email. However, there are significant risks associated with utilizing unencrypted emails.

For Treatment

We may use medical information about you to provide you with medical treatment or services. We may disclose medical information about you to doctors, nurses, technicians, office staff, or other medical personnel who are involved in taking care of you by our Health Care Providers.

We may also disclose information about you to other health care providers outside our clinic location so they may treat you. For example, your doctor may be treating you for a heart condition and may need to know if you have other health problems that could complicate your treatment. The doctor may use your medical history to decide what treatment is best for you. He may also tell another doctor about your condition so that doctor can help determine the most appropriate care for you.

Different personnel in our office may share information about you and disclose information to people who do not work in our office in order to coordinate your care, such as phoning in prescriptions, scheduling lab work, and ordering x-rays. We may also disclose medical information about you to family members and other health care professionals outside our clinic location who may be involved in your medical care. This information is shared on the basis of other health care staff "needing to know" the information about you to provide safe necessary treatment to you.

For Payment

We may use and disclose medical information about you so the treatment and services you receive at our clinic location may be billed to and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company, or other third party. For example, we may need to give your health plan information about a service you received here so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the service. We may also tell your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive to obtain prior approval, or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment.

We may also use or disclose your health information to our billing department/company or consumer reporting agencies for claims management or collection activities pertaining to the collection of payments owed to us.

For Health Care Operations

We may use and disclose medical information about you for office operation. These uses and disclosures are necessary for patient quality care. For example, we may use your health information to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also use health information about all or many of our patients to help us decide what additional services we should offer, how we can become more efficient, or whether certain new treatments are effective.

We may remove information that identifies you from this set of medical information so others may use it to study health care and health care delivery without learning who you or other patients are as individuals. We may provide information about you to other health care providers, health plans, or health care clearinghouses to perform activities such as quality assessment, case management, training, and studying groups of people for the purpose of improving health.

Appointment Reminders

We may use and disclose medical information to contact you as a reminder that you have an appointment for tests, treatment or medical care.

Treatment Alternatives

We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about or recommend possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you or offer you optional care alternatives.

Health-Related Products and Services

We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about health-related benefits or services that may be of interest to you.

Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care

Unless you tell us otherwise, we may release medical information about you to a friend or family member who is involved in your medical care. We may give information to someone who helps pay for your care. We may also tell your family or friends your condition and that you are at our clinic location. In addition, we may disclose medical information about you to an entity assisting us in a disaster relief effort so that your family can be notified about your condition, status, and location.

Business Associates

There are some services provided in our organization through contracts with business associates. Examples may include transcription services, billing services or healthcare clearinghouse. When these services are contracted, we may disclose your health information to our business associates so they can perform the jobs we've asked them to do and bill you or your third-party payer for services rendered. All of our business associates, including contractors and sub-contractors that receive or have access to protected health information, are obligated to protect the privacy of your information and are not allowed to use or disclose any information other than as specified in our contract.

Research

Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose medical information about you for research purposes. For example, a research project may involve comparing the health and recovery of patients who received one medication to those who received another, for the same condition. Before we use or disclose medical information for research, the project will go through a special approval process. In certain circumstances, we are permitted to disclose medical information about you to people preparing for research. For example, researchers may look for patients with specific treatment needs to develop a research protocol, but may not remove the medical information they review from the clinic location.

As Required by Law

We will disclose medical information about you when required to do so by federal, state, or local laws.

To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety

We may use or disclose medical information about you when necessary to prevent a serious threat to you health and safety or the health and safety of the public or other person. Any disclosure, however, would only be to someone able to help prevent the threat.

Health Oversight Activities

We may disclose medical information to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law. These oversight activities include, for example, audits, investigations, inspections, and licensure. These activities are necessary for the government to monitor the health care system, government programs, and compliance with civil rights laws.

Lawsuits and Disputes

If you are involved in a lawsuit or a dispute, we may disclose medical information about you in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose medical information about you in response to a subpoena, discovery request or other lawful process by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information requested.
