

Data Bite # 8 – Top Transfer Schools

Top Transfer Schools

At WTAMU, 45.9% of the undergraduate students are transfer students. Given that nearly half of our student body consists of transfers, it's crucial to examine their backgrounds more closely. Transfer students typically come from two types of institutions: community colleges or 4-year universities. The chart below illustrates that 86.8% of these transfer students are from community colleges.

Transfer Type	#	%
Community College Transfer	3070	86.8%
4-Year Institution Transfer	465	13.2%
Total	3535	100.0%

The chart below provides a detailed breakdown of the top colleges and universities from which our transfer students come. Amarillo College leads with 44.1%, followed by three other nearby community colleges. Texas Tech ranks 5th, underscoring that community colleges are indeed the primary source of our transfer students.
